Re: UMG Records, Inc., et al. vs. RCN Telecom Services, LLC, et al.
Civil Action No. 3:19-cv-17272-RK-TJB

Dear Judge Bongiovanni:

This firm represents Defendants (collectively, “RCN”) in the above-referenced matter. We write to briefly reply to one issue raised in Plaintiffs’ October 20, 2023 letter (ECF No. 254), concerning the relationship between RCN and JPMorgan/Morgan Stanley.

JPMorgan and Morgan Stanley were previously mistakenly identified as “agents of Stonepeak” during Stonepeak’s acquisition of RCN from TPG. See ECF No. 229. Publicly available information confirms that JP Morgan and Morgan Stanley represented RCN (now known as Astound Broadband¹) in that transaction, not Stonepeak. See, e.g., “Stonepeak Announces Agreement to Acquire Astound Broadband from TPG for $8.1 Billion,” November 1, 2020, <https://press.tpg.com/news-releases/news-release-details/stonepeak-announces-agreement-acquire-astound-broadband-tpg-81> (“J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC are acting as financial advisors to Astound.”).²

Thus, by the Court’s reasoning, communications between RCN and JPMorgan/Morgan Stanley should be protected by the common interest privilege because these parties were on the “same side” of the bargaining table. See Order at 5 (citing 10x Genomics, Inc. v. Celsee, Inc.,

¹ RCN is part of a collective of broadband operators that now operate under the name Astound Broadband.

505 F.3d 334, 338 (D. Del. 2020)). This inadvertent error concerning the relationship between RCN and JPMorgan/Morgan Stanley has no bearing on the Court's holding; however, it does affect the documents that are subject to the Order. Because RCN and JPMorgan/Morgan Stanley were not adverse parties in the transaction, the Court's Order should not apply to communications between them. See Order at 5-7.

RCN respectfully requests that the Court enter an order clarifying that RCN is not required to produce these documents.³ RCN believes oral argument would assist the Court in resolving these issues, and RCN can be available for an in-person hearing or teleconference on this matter at the Court's convenience.

Respectfully Submitted,

/s/ Edward F. Behm, Jr.
